Morawa Trilateral Summer School 2026

Polish-German-Ukrainian Cooperation

14-21 September 2026 | Morawa, Poland

We are happy to announce the open call for participants for the Morawa Trilateral Summer School 2026, a week-long international program bringing together young people from Poland, Germany, and Ukraine to explore the future of regional cooperation in Europe.

About the Summer School

In light of Russia's ongoing aggression against Ukraine and Ukraine's path toward EU membership, strengthening Polish-German-Ukrainian cooperation has become more important than ever. Building on the legacy of the Weimar Triangle, the Summer School aims to foster dialogue, mutual understanding, and collaboration among students and young professionals from the three countries.

Over the course of seven days in Morawa, participants will take part in lectures, workshops, a study excursion, and creative sessions focusing on security, politics, culture, and historical memory.

Language

The working language of the program is English.

Who can apply

We welcome applications from young people who:

- are from 18 to 26 years old
- currently reside in Poland, Germany, or Ukraine
- are motivated to engage in international dialogue and interdisciplinary cooperation (academic background or status is not the primary selection criterion)

We plan to select 27 participants.

Costs and conditions

The Patron

The Jan Nowak-Jeziorański College of Eastern Europe (KEW) is a foundation and think tank dedicated to fostering informed debate on developments in Eastern Europe. Known for publishing New Eastern Europe and Nowa Europa Wschodnia and for organizing the influential Polish Eastern Policy conference, KEW serves as an important forum connecting intellectuals, experts, and decision-makers. Established in 2001 by Jan Nowak-Jeziorański, it has become one of Poland's key institutions shaping discussion on the region's democratic future.

The Organizers

The Saint Jadwiga Foundation supports education, social development, and international integration, building bridges between cultures and generations. Believing in each person's potential to shape a better future, it implements diverse educational, artistic, and community projects. Since its establishment, the Foundation has focused on initiatives that promote creativity, intergenerational exchange, and international dialogue throughout Europe.

GFPS is an academic association dedicated to fostering academic exchange, cultural dialogue, and cross-border cooperation in Central and Eastern Europe. Through scholarships, workshops, and community-building initiatives, it supports young people in developing their academic potential and intercultural competencies. Since its founding, GFPS has promoted grassroots collaboration and lasting connections across Germany, Poland, Czechia, Ukraine, and Belarus.

The project is organized by the St. Jadwiga Foundation in Morawa, Bildungsstätte und Kindergarten Hedwig e.V., and громадська організація ГФПС-Україна. The Jan Nowak-Jeziorański College of Eastern Europe is a partner in the project. The project is co-funded by the Polish-German Youth Office, the Sanddorf Foundation, and the Foundation for Polish-German Cooperation.
